

Afzaal after the accident in March 2012

Afzaal joined the Living Rosary on October 7, 2000. At the time, he was working at the local hospital as an orderly. He began at once to help with translations realizing the value of the ULRA work for the faithful in Pakistan. Later, he was “dismissed” from his job because of his Catholic Faith. Having time on his hands, he began translating all our materials for spreading the devotion. He traveled throughout the country to give seminars in parishes and schools. We set him up with a computer and built a small chapel in his home. During the following years, he worked tirelessly with no thought of himself, against the most terrible odds, physical and political, and is responsible for enrolling hundreds of thousands of members in the Living Rosary. He survived the spinal TB which nearly killed him and, now, he is battling the deterioration of his spinal nerves. Time is urgent! The hospitalization and surgery will cost over $5,000. God love you for anything you can give. Please keep Afzaal in your prayers. Thank you!
